A Speaker Series designed to help educators and others understand and implement the Ontario Right-to-Read recommendations

MEET OUR NEXT SPEAKER: SUSAN BRADY

Susan Brady received her Ph.D. in Cognitive Psychology at the University of Connecticut in 1975 and presently is a Professor Emerita at the University of Rhode Island. She has held additional positions at the University of Sussex, St. Andrews University, and Haskins Laboratories. Concentrating on topics in the field of literacy, her research has focused on linguistic underpinnings of reading development and on the nature of language weaknesses for struggling readers. In addition, she has been committed to translating the implications of the larger body of reading research for practice and has conducted multiple grant-funded professional development projects.
